

Cleveland Climate Week

Connecting grassroots climate leadership, community voices, and collaborative environmental solutions across Cleveland and Northeast Ohio.

There are many ways to help this work grow. Some people contribute time, ideas, expertise, space, food, services, or community connections. Others choose to give financially because the work reflects something they care about. Every contribution matters.

Support at Any Level

Support can begin with $5 or grow into a larger community, foundation, institutional, or corporate sponsorship. Suggested amounts are guides, not measures of commitment. Individuals and organizations may also choose to give anonymously.

Support Level	Amount	Support Level	Amount
Community Friend	$5-$99	Community Seed	$100
Grassroots Ally	$250	Climate Neighbor	$500
Green Roots Supporter	$1,000	Community Catalyst	$2,500
Neighborhood Climate Partner	$5,000	Resilience Builder	$10,000
Forest City Champion	$15,000	Lake Erie Legacy Partner	$25,000+

What Support Helps Make Possible

- Welcoming gatherings and year-round connections
- Climate Starts With Me community storytelling
- Stronger connections across neighborhoods, organizations, universities, businesses, professionals, artists, and community groups
- Youth and resident leadership opportunities
- Accessible participation and learning experiences

Other Ways to Contribute

Financial support is only one way to participate. Cleveland Climate Week also welcomes meeting space, food, transportation, printing, communications, professional services, volunteer time, equipment, outreach support, and other shared resources.

Community Partnership

Cleveland Climate Week is a community-centered initiative developed in collaboration with Neighborhood Connections, an Ohio 501(c)(3), which serves as fiscal sponsor. Cleveland Climate Week also works with the Environmental Professionals Network and EPN Connect to strengthen local and regional connections.
